

Natural Computing

The seminar provides students with general knowledge about the topic of Natural Computing, being itself an introduction to the different modules which are part of the subject: Intelligent Search based on Metaheuristics, Evolutionary Computation and Unconventional Computing (Biomolecular and Quantum Computing).